Before Buying Glasses
Before buying glasses you should familiarize yourself with the advantages of the service of a responsible optical house.

Beyond the fundamental point of having the lenses ground in exact accordance with your ocu-list's prescription, their size, the kind of mounting and the final adjustment to your face are all matters of importance.

These features are explained in detail in a booklet entitled "Your Eyes," of which we should like to hand or mail you a copy.

The Newport naval station turned out in force yesterday to do honor to Rear Admiral Stephen H. Land who celebrated his nineteenth birthday. The veteran, who laid the foundation for the present system of naval training and who is called the father of the Naval War College, was able to go out on his front porch and review the battalion of naval apprentices, who greeted him with arms at "present." After they had gone through some of the evolutions the admiral had written into the naval drill books they swung past him on the way back to the station, singing "Nancy Lee," the song he introduced into the navy years ago.
Later the officers at the station called to pay respects.

at dinner last evening at the Willard in honor of Mr. Edwin Lefevre, The other guests were Mrs. Lefevre,

Does Smoking Affect the Eyes?

You might ask the same question in regard to eating and the answer would be, "Yes, if overdone." Most men who ask me this question are men of "high blood pressure," who are rather intemperate in everything except physical exercise. They complain of a "blurring coming over their eyes" and without thought they consult an eye specialist when they ought to consult a physician.
